Funding from Sovereign Bank and the Montgomery County Employee Giving Campaign made the "Photo Kids" program possible. The Arts and Humanities Council of Montgomery County (AHCMC) arranged funding for the program and secured the photographer/artist. The Housing Opportunities Commission owns and operates the public housing community of Washington Square in Gaithersburg.
